

Figure 1. Key professional roles and influences at each system level. For the profession to effectively exert its influences on the health system design and function, it must appreciate its direct (coloured boxes) and indirect (advocacy, grey box) roles at different system levels.