
Appendix 1. Interview guide

1. Can you tell me about how and why you started providing medical abortion in your clinic?

- a. What was involved in the set up?
 - b. Did you use any resources to assist you?
 - c. Who did you talk to about the service when you set it up?
 - d. Did you make contact with other health professionals?
-

2. Can you talk me through your last medical termination of pregnancy (MToP) consultation?

- a. How do you structure the process – what steps are involved?
 - b. How many consultations are involved?
 - c. Do you routinely use resources, if so which ones?
 - d. How do you bill your MToP consultations, and can you think of any improvements to billing?
 - e. How much does it cost you to provide MToP in general practice?
 - f. Can you tell me about how you use anti-D?
-

3. MToP can involve a lot of different health professionals other than yourself; who else is involved in caring for your MToP patients, and to what extent?

4. What happens to MToP provision at your practice when you are on leave?

5. Do you know other MToP providers in your area or surrounding area – can you tell me how you came to know them?

6. Personally, how do you find providing MToP in your clinic?

- a. How do your colleagues find it – any problems, how have you addressed it?
 - b. What do your patients think of the fact you are providing this service, how do you know (both MToP and non-MToP patients)?
 - c. How do patients find your service?
-

7. How do you think medical termination provision in Australian general practice could be improved?

- a. There are other models of MToP delivery such as with greater nurse involvement. What do you think about the scope for nurses to play a greater role in MToP service provision in your practice and nationally?
 - b. What advice would you give a colleague who wanted to start delivering medical termination in their clinic?
-

8. Anything else you would like to add?
